PRESS RELEASE

Sabre Networks Locates in Franklin County

IT support and security firm locates to Youngsville

Franklin County, N.C. - October 31, 2016: Franklin County welcomes a new business with the opening of Sabre Networks at 112-D Wheaton Drive in Youngsville. Sabre Networks is a leader in the IT Managed Services market in the Research Triangle Region of North Carolina.

"Franklin County continues to attract IT security and support services businesses," stated Richie Duncan, Director of Franklin County Economic Development. "We are pleased to have Sabre Networks join our business community and look forward to their continued growth."

Sabre Networks has been in business for over twenty years and is now aggressively seeking expansion in Wake and Franklin counties. The company specializes in managed and on-demand IT support services for businesses of all sizes. Sabre Network currently has five employees and will be adding new employees over the next 12 months.

"We want to be the leading provider of business IT services in the area because it's our home, it's where we started," commented Tony Hayden, President of Sabre Networks. "Locating in Franklin County enhances our strategic position to provide hands-on technical support and services to our valued clients."

About Sabre Networks:

Founded in 1996, Sabre Networks provides IT Managed Support Services to organizations of all sizes in the Research Triangle Region and across the U.S. by providing state-of-the-art support, services and products that allow our clients to get ahead of the competition and achieve greater success.
